50 Dollars Reward.
ABSCONDED on Saturday morning, the 15th inst. negro George, or George Griffin, the property of Miss McCall, by trade a nailer, and understands some part of the blacksmith's business; he is about 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, stout made, very black complexion, large eyes and mouth, with thick lips. He is a very artful fellow and has been in the habit of obtaining himself as a free man, and will not doubt attempt to pass as such, and probably get work—a down look when spoken to.—His clothes not recollected, having various suits.
A reward of 10 dollars will be given if taken in the town or county, 20 in the county of Washington or Fairfax, or the above reward if taken 50 miles from town, with all reasonable charges if brought home.
Masters of vessels are cautioned against harboring or carrying off said runaway, as they will be dealt with according to law.

10 Dollars Reward.
RAN away from the subscriber about the 4th of August, Negro Woman LOUIZA—she is 2 years old, about 5 feet five inches high, and stout; has some of her front teeth out, and is apt to laugh when spoken to; she has a sister Marinda and a mother living in Georgetown, one above Semmes's tavern, and the other on Herring Hill, where she has been harbored for two weeks, and left there to come home, but has not done so. I expect she can be found in Georgetown or Alexandria, where she has many acquaintances. I will give the above reward if brought home, or lodged in jail so that I get her again.

Philadelphia, July 31.
The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN; and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.
As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splendid edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splendid Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A Legislator for its Security! A Magistrate for its Happiness!" it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving.

ROMULUS RIGGS,
AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be harassed on.

SAMUEL WARD.

Baltimore Hospital,
24th August, 1818.
THE board of visitors have much pleasure in announcing to the public, that within the last eighteen months, a large and elegant addition has been made to this valuable institution, in the erection of the East wing of the building. This wing is 152 feet in length and 36 in width, with an extensive Southern projection at its extreme East end. It contains between 30 and 40 apartments, admirably calculated for the accommodation of every class of patients. Of this number are several large and airy wards, intended particularly for the reception of seamen, and well adapted to their various diseases. These different rooms and wards will be warmed by open fires, and by heated air thrown into them, from furnaces constructed on a safe and improved plan. Arrangements will also soon be made, for lighting the apartments in the entire building, with gas.
The unwearied exertions of Doctors Mackenzie and Smyth, the attending Physicians at the Hospital, in their attention to the construction of the building, and their care of the sick, have given a character to this Institution, which is now inferior to none in the United States. In the short space of six years, a most noble establishment has been erected—a thing without parallel in this country. It is well known, that above half a century has been consumed, in bringing the Hospitals of New York and Philadelphia to their present size, and it is admitted by many gentlemen, who have visited these Institutions, that the Hospital here, is by far the most extensive; the whole building being now 360 feet in length.
The daily increase of the sick in the Hospital, renders it absolutely necessary that the new wing should be furnished; and every exertion is now making, to have it completed, before the cold weather shall set in.
The visitors at their late meeting, examined the Institution with much care—the apartments of the sick in the private infirmary—those in the lunatic asylum—and the wards of the sick and disabled seamen in the Marine Hospital—and they assert with confidence, that the sick and afflicted of every description are well accommodated and carefully attended. They have seen at their different meetings, the private patient comfortable; the wretched marine humanely taken care of; and the sailor, disabled by age, wounds and sickness, well provided with suitable medical assistance, and with every other comfort which his condition may require. Indeed the agreeable situation in which this very useful class of men are placed, does much credit, as well to the Director of the Marine Hospital, as to the attending Physicians, to whose immediate care they are entrusted. Every praise too, which the visitors can bestow, is due to Mr. & Mrs. Mitchell, the Steward and Matron of the Hospital, for the neat and clean manner in which the House is uniformly kept, and for their care and attention to the administration of the internal economy of the establishment.
Before they conclude this account of the Hospital, the visitors would invite the attention of their fellow citizens throughout the United States, to the Anatomical Cabinet of Wax Preparations, by Chiappi, which certainly far surpasses any thing of the kind ever exhibited in this country; and will afford to those whose curiosity may lead them to see how "fearefully and wonderfully they are made," but more especially to the medical student, a fund of useful information.
The Hospital is under the care of the following medical gentlemen:
Doctors Colin Mackenzie, Attending Physician.
Dr. Horatio Gates Jamieson, Attending Surgeon.
Doctors George Brown, John Coulter, John Campbell White, Solomon Birkhead, John Crowell, Peter Conrad, Ashton Alexander, John Owen, William Donaldson, Consulting Physicians.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber's service, on Saturday night the 15th inst. Negro woman TREACE or TREACY—she is five feet two or three inches high, about 30 years of age, of a very dark complexion, and when particularly examined is very apt to confound herself.—It is deemed unnecessary to mention her clothing, as she has all of them with her, and being extremely artful, she no doubt will change them and endeavor to pass for a free woman. She is well acquainted in Charles county, Prince George's, Alexandria and the City, as about 5 years ago she made her escape, and was 6 or 7 months about the Lower Ferry, leading to Alexandria, and from thence to Washington City, where she acquired an extensive acquaintance among the Negroes belonging to John Brent, esq.; and the greater part of said Negroes belong now to William and Robert Brent, esqrs. and Mr. Dudley Digges. Negro Treace has a scar on the back part of her neck, occasioned by a scorpion put for the benefit of her eyes, which are very weak at this time. I will give 10 dollars if taken in the county and secured in jail, or if out of the county and secured as aforesaid, so that I get her again, 25 dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home. All persons are forewarned harboring or employing said Negro at their peril, as the law will be rigorously put in force against any offender.

Original Miscellany.

An old gentleman (one of those who were in their prime in the proud days of seventy-six) having the other day, at a tavern table, advanced the opinion that the people of the United States had, within the last twenty or twenty-five years, become the most extravagant people upon earth, was reminded by a person who sat opposite to him that he must have changed his opinions most unaccountably within a few days; for, said he, "it is not a week since I heard you, while sitting in the very same place, charge your countrymen with being almost as avaricious as the Dutch, and how, I would fain learn, can you contrive to reconcile two charges so very opposite to each other?" "The two charges," replied the old gentleman, "are not at all reconcilable—vanity renders you extravagant, and extravagance kindles an insatiable cupidity in your bowels. Avarice acts in two ways—it prompts to undue acquisition in some, and to unfeeling retention in others; and he is no less liable to the charge of avarice, who by hard dealing and extortion wrings from his neighbors more money than he ought, in order to supply his extravagance, than he who starves himself only to hoard up pelf." As I returned home, I revolved the proposition in my mind, and could not help thinking that on a question respecting the relative qualities of avarice and extravagance, (of which candor must own that we have our full share in this country) Sir Roger De Coverley's decision would come in with great propriety—"Much may be said on both sides." I send you some of my desultory thoughts upon the subjects.

Some rich men starve to death for fear of starving to-morrow (as a man leaps into the sea to avoid being drowned)—and the indigent often consume in an hour what they may feel the want of for a year:—as if old people hoarded money because they cannot want it, and young men throw it away because it was necessary to their subsistence. If covetousness, as it has been said, resembles a dropsy, extravagance resembles madness; and it would be as just to prescribe laws for extravagants, as it would be absurd to preach sermons to idiots.

How often have we seen in our large cities, fools and coxcombs with their curlicues, and tangle-gigs, and coaches, dashing dirt and dust upon the sober and the wise, and soon after walking the streets in poverty and rags, and covered with dirt and dust from the carriages and coxcombry of others.

The hoarding miser torments himself, and the spendthrift punishes the innocent. The former heaps for others, and the latter scatters what others have heaped. The hoarder thinks so much of the time to come, as to forget the present; while the squanderer is so much taken up with the present, that he forgets the future. The first lives as if he were never to die, and the last as if he had but a day to enjoy. Both are mischievous members of society:—the one occasioning a stoppage in the circulation, and the other causing an hemorrhage. The hoarding miser is like a fog that infects the air; the prodigal resembles an outrageous hurricane that dissipates and sweeps away every thing before it. The hoarder passes restless nights, though he has nothing to fear; the squanderer, if he sleeps sound himself, rots his creditors of their repose. The hoarding miser is a ridiculous creature, and the prodigal a noxious animal.

When we are young we keep for old age; when we are old we save for death. A prodigal makes a pompous feast—and sponges on the public for a funeral.

The character of covetousness is what a man acquires more through some niggardliness or ill grace in little inconsiderable things, than in expenses of any consequence. A very few dollars a year would relieve a man from the scandal of avarice.

Coveting what we need not, deprives us of the true content and fruition of what we already have.

Considering an avaricious man's cares, his fears, and his starting sleep, and that while he has all the anxious and distracting cares and vexations which attend the possession of an estate, he is so bewitched as to undergo the inconveniences of poverty, the wretchedness of his condition would induce one to say, that the greatest curse a man may wish another would be that he may love money, and live long.

That man is rich enough who needs not either to flatter or to borrow—and truly opulent is he who is satisfied. Want lies in desire.

Sordid selfishness contracts and narrows our benevolence, and causes us, like serpents, to infold ourselves within ourselves, and to turn our stings to all the world besides.

History tells us of illustrious villains—but there never was an illustrious miser—nature. He is disagreeable to a prodigal to keep an account of his expenses, as it is to a sinner to examine his conscience:—the deeper they search the worst they find themselves.

There cannot be a more ridiculous folly than to spend high in confidence of reversions and distant expectations.

There are some people who are badly lodged, live hard, wear wretched clothes, and eat the worst of meat—who deprive themselves of the society of men, and live in a continual solitude; who are in pain for the time present, past, and to come; whose lives are a perpetual penance; and who have cunningly found out the most troublesome way to perdition—I mean the covetous.

Extreme avarice always makes mistakes. There is no passion that so constantly misses its aim. An avaricious man may be said to freeze before the fire; to be a mere dog in a wheel, that toils to roast meat for others to eat.

The following circular contains information very interesting to many of our merchants who are now loading vessels in this district and in the Rappahannock river, for Portugal and its dependencies.

Consulate of the United States for the Kingdom of Portugal.
Lisbon, 31st July 1818.

Sir—I have the honor to acquaint you that in consequence of a late order of the Board of health of this city, it is required, that all vessels proceeding from any port in the United States, to any port in this Kingdom, should produce at their arrival, a certificate from the resident Portuguese Consul at the port from whence they clear out, attached to the Invoices, Bills of Lading, Manifest, Clearance and Bill of Health of said vessel; that said documents, are all that are given to vessels clearing from the ports of the United States and the goods described in said invoices, bills of lading, &c. compose the whole and entire cargo of said vessel, and that at the period of her sailing, and for some time previous, the city was and had been free from all contagious or infectious disease of any kind or description whatsoever. Should there not be a resident Portuguese consul in your port, if the Consul of any foreign nation in amity with Portugal, will subscribe to a similar certificate, and state therein that he was called on in consequence of there being no Portuguese Consul, it will answer the same purpose, and relieve vessels which may arrive hereafter in any of the ports of this Kingdom from endless impediments, exactions and detentions.

Requesting you will communicate this in a manner the best suited to give it publicity. I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. PEMBATON HUTCHINSON,
Consul United States.

To the Collector of Customs, of the Port of Norfolk.

On Friday, Hamilton was tried at Albany, before a very crowded court, for the murder of major Birdsell. After the jury went out a short time, they returned with a verdict of guilty.

The new constitution of Connecticut has been adopted in the towns, by a majority of about 1500 votes. We understand that the whole number was rising 28000.

King Christophe's secretary general has addressed a letter to the free men of color in the United States, inviting them to become Haytiens, and enjoy the freedom and blessings of that country. He offers great encouragement to mechanics and agriculturalists, and promises laborers 1 dollar per day exclusive of board and lodging. To such as have no means of paying their passages, he will allow 40 dollars per head for men and women, and half that sum for children, from 2 to 12 years of age.

In some parts of Germany an old law has been revived, which to persons killed in a duel, denies the right of burial, and gives the body for dissection. A similar law in this country might be the means of lessening the number of fashionable murders.

From the N. Y. Mercantile Adv. Oct. 12.
The regularity of the line of packet ships established between this port and Liverpool, has been maintained with a precision that could scarcely have been anticipated. A singular coincidence has occurred in the last voyage of the Courier. In coming out of Liverpool, she met the Pacific, one of the line, going into that port; and in coming into this port on Saturday afternoon, she met the Amity, another of the line going out.

From the Norfolk Herald, October 12.
THE MACEDONIAN PUT BACK.

On Saturday afternoon arrived at this port, in distress, the U. S. frigate Macedonian, John Downes, Esq. commander, having been dismasted in a hurricane which she experienced on Sunday the 27th of Sept. in lat 35, lon 54. The Macedonian sailed from Boston on the 20th Sept. bound for the Pacific Ocean, and completely equipped for a two years cruise. Nothing material occurred until the 27th, when, as they were hourly expecting to fall into the trade winds, and anticipating a quick run to the Brazil Coast, they were suddenly overtaken by the most tremendous hurricane ever known to the oldest seaman on board, which lasted about 15 hours, and left their gallant ship a miserable wreck. The gale commenced from the S. E. with a heavy swell, but shifted to various points. About 5 A. M. the mizen-mast was carried away by the board, and shortly after all the remaining spars, except the fore and mainmasts, which, however, were so badly sprung that it was found necessary to fish them in several places; lost the stern and quarter boats, and sustained much other damage. The tempest is represented to have been indistinguishably awful, and the situation of the Macedonian perilous in the extreme: in the early part of it, William Wilkins, captain of the mizen top, an excellent seaman and a worthy young man, was unfortunately knocked overboard by the mizen stay-sail sheet, and drowned. This was the only casualty that occurred among the crew.

Previous to the sailing of the Macedonian from Boston, she had undergone a thorough overhauling and repair; and the trim in which she left that port could scarcely be exceeded; but now how altered! After being only six days at sea, she returns to port with no other vestige of her former grandeur than her "wooden wall," and in appearance, precisely as she entered the port of New-York when a prize to the gallant Decatur.

The Macedonian passed through the narrows below Craney Island about 5 o'clock, at which time the flood had only been three hours running, and (although under jury-masts) in less than half an hour after, she was safe at anchor abreast of the navy yard. Such indeed, was the celerity of her progress that very few of the citizens knew of her arrival until she was moored. This fact alone should satisfy every unprejudiced mind that the depth of water from the entrance of Elizabeth river to the navy yard, is all sufficient for the purpose of a naval depot. If the Macedonian, deeply laden as she is, and in her crippled state, could enter the capes and run directly up to the navy yard, with the same wind, without anchoring; and could pass the shoalest part of our river on a half flood, it surely must be admitted that the harbor of Norfolk can afford a safe and easy entrance to the heaviest ships in our navy.

New-York, October 12.

By the arrival on Saturday evening, of the regular packet ship Courier, Captain Bowne, in 33 days from Liverpool, the editors of the Gazette have received London papers to the 31st of August. They have given them all that is interesting.

The London Traveller, in noticing the sailing of the frigate Guerriere, observes: "The U. S. frigate Guerriere sailed on Tuesday evening from Cowes, with her excellency the Hon. George W. Campbell, minister to the court of Russia. The fine appearance of this immense frigate, whose tonnage is 1507 tons, and length of deck 194 feet, drew on board her, during her short stay at Cowes, a large assemblage of distinguished visitors, all of whom were very courteously received by capt. M'Donnough and his officers. The complement of men on board the Guerriere, on her arrival in Cowes roads, was 460, and though much care was had in selecting proper crews for the launch and barge, in communicating with the shore, eleven men contrived to slip off undiscovered, the views and picturesque scenery of the Isle of Wight and Spithead having been, it is said, very familiar to them."

Despatches from India of the date of April 11, are published in the London Gazette. These despatches detail operations against the Pindarees and the Peishwa, from the 23d of January to the end of March; and contain nothing later than the accounts received here direct from India.

The weavers continued troublesome at Manchester. The Anti-Pirate Institution, established at Paris, of which Sir Sidney Smith was the President, has been dissolved, the object of the association having been accomplished. Previous to their dissolution, they announced, that the new Dey of Algiers has set at Liberty the European women and girls who were carried off by Ali-Hodgia, and that he had paid a considerable sum to the sufferers. That the Dey was disarming all the corsairs, with the avowed determination not to allow any to go to sea this year.

A massy piece of plate, as large as three men could carry, had arrived at Plymouth, which was ordered by the captains and commanders of the several ships and vessels engaged in the battle of Algiers. It has been presented to Lord Exmouth, and will be exhibited at the next anniversary dinner. The woods have taken fire between Liverpool and Port Mutton, and burnt from Han's Ports to the Western Head. Eight buildings, four or five dwelling houses, all the crops of grain, &c. with an immense quantity of timber have been burnt.

Drury-Lane theatre was to open for the season under the management of Mr. Stephen Kemble and the sub-committee; the prices of admission are to be reduced to 5s for the boxes, 3s. half price; pit 3s. half price 2s.

Died, in Worcestershire, aged 86, the Rt. Hon. (and celebrated) Warren Hastings, late Gov. Gen. of Bengal. A translation of the private anecdotes of the court and family of Napoleon, has been published in London. The author is said to have been intimately acquainted with the private and domestic life of the ex-Emperor; and has collected information of a most curious nature.

London, Aug. 17.
The City has been inundated with rumours for these three days, all "finely confused and highly alarming." Some large sales in consequence of orders from Country Bankers, who could make more interest of the money by employing it in their immediate neighbourhood, were characterized by those who wanted to buy into the Funds and who wished to buy at the low price as sales effected in consequence of political intelligence of a gloomy nature. "No men have such weak nerves as the moneyed interest, no men are so sensitive as those opposite factions, termed in the nice and curious phraseology of the Stock Market, Bulls and Bears. Hence on Saturday morning rumours "in wild confusion" rose—"It was a war with America—nothing was more. A ship—Sir JOHN WARREN had been sent for express to take the command of a fleet ordered to be fitted out forthwith—press-warrants had already been issued, and press-gangs ordered to be collected by a certain hour on all the bridges." In aid of an American war came the strong belief of a speedy rupture between Spain and Portugal—the great European Powers could not settle the differences between them—and a war was inevitable, in which the principal States would of course be sooner or later involved. A third set of rumours decided, "that the Congress was not to be a Congress of peace—a Congress for consolidating the tranquillity now so happily re-established throughout Europe—but a Congress of aggression—a Congress to devise and arrange new projects of ambition and conquest. Such were the rumours, and as credulity is the child of panic, the Funds have experienced a considerable depression."

To notice these absurd rumours is perhaps to attach too much importance to them; but absurdity is sometimes mischievous, and it is not always safe or wise to treat with silent contempt that which most deserves it. If we were desired to name that particular period at which the tranquillity of nations was least likely to be disturbed, we should name that in which all these alarming rumours of war and disturbance have been so eagerly circulated. But to notice these rumours more particularly.

1. As far as the most authentic intelligence enables us to form any opinion; as far, we believe we may add without fear of contradiction as any accounts have reached Government, there never was a time since the Peace concluded with the United States, in which that Peace was less likely to be disturbed. So far from it, that the diplomatic correspondence between the two Governments is conducted in the most amicable and cordial terms. As far therefore as human foresight can dive into future we have, from the friendly spirit now happily existing, on each side of the Atlantic, every ground for expecting a lasting peace. After this positive statement, we need scarcely add, that the insinuations in the Morning Chronicle of to-day, of persons who are sellers, being in the secret, are utterly unfounded.

2. With respect to Spain and Portugal, the differences that have for some time subsisted are certainly not adjusted. It is possible that Portugal may urge as an apology for not giving up Monte Video, that the Spanish Government might not be able to keep it against the efforts of the Insurgents, and that if the latter did get possession of it, the security of the Portuguese territories in that part of the American Continent might be endangered. Then, Portugal, as a set off against the complaints made by the Spanish Government relative to Monte Video, may possibly reciprocate complaints against the conduct of Spain to the Portuguese territories in Europe.

But, be this as it may, the differences, though yet unadjusted, will not, we may safely predict, lead to any rupture between them. Without being more explicit, we may conclude by saying, that they will not go to war in opposition to the expressed will and policy of the great Allied Powers; which policy is most decisively that the peace of Europe shall not be disturbed.

3. This last assertion, in which we are sure we shall not be contradicted, might serve as a sufficient reply and refutation of the last rumour, that the Congress about to be assembled is more likely to light up again the flames of war than to confirm and consolidate the blessings of peace. But we will not discuss this point so briefly. It is well known that the Congress of Vienna, interrupted and broken up so unexpectedly by the rupture of Buonaparte into France, left many points unsettled. The subsequent events, the treaties consequent upon the second entrance into Paris, the establishment of foreign troops in the French territories, rendered it inexpedient to reassemble a Congress until the claims upon France had been liquidated, or sufficient security given for the liquidation, and until France had been restored to such a state of internal tranquillity as to render the military occupation no longer necessary. That period, it is said, is deemed by the Allied Powers to have arrived, and the evacuation is to take place before the commencement of November. Hence France, so important and necessary a party to any arrangement embracing the whole of the European family, will be able to assist at the Congress in a more free and unfettered state than she could have done had the Congress been held in the interval that has elapsed since the signature of the treaty at the end of the year 1815. If we might presume to hazard a conjecture relative to some of the main objects that will occupy the useful and honorable labors of the Congress, one of them will relate to the situation of the Germanic Powers, now in a state of considerable doubt and confusion, in consequence of the dissolution of the old ties that subsisted, and the loose and imperfect nature of the new ties that have replaced them. This will be a work of great nicety and delicacy, but all difficulties will yield to the thorough conviction that the Congress is not influenced by any selfish or personal views, but solely by a desire to cement, consolidate, and secure the General Peace. There are besides some questions of territorial limits which remain to be more accurately settled, particularly, if we are not misinformed, between Bavaria, Wirtemberg, Baden and Hesse.

The differences between Spain and Portugal will in this Congress be discussed and finally settled.

The relative situation and privileges of different religious persuasions—particularly of the Jews, who hitherto, particularly in Germany, have been so grievously oppressed, may be another point of discussion. It may be, too, that the Congress will take into its consideration, the different military establishments to be kept up by each Power.

These are some of the principal subjects—others are of less importance. But we have enumerated enough to show that peace, not war—consolidation, not aggression are the aim and objects of the Congress. And we conclude by repeating, that if we were to name the period when a happy and happy peace was likely to unite a b. o. o. o. nations, we should name the period in which we now submit this article to the British public. To the Public.

COME time in June, or the first of July, as I came from a barbeque at Sl-sh creek, it being late before I could get across the ferry (it was about 12 o'clock), and going through town, I passed through Christ Church alley. It was very dark, and I thought of what the poet Shakespeare said, as follows:

It is now the very witching time of night,
When church yards yawning, and hell itself
Breathes forth destruction to the world:
Just as I thought of this, I discovered something very white, and as I had heard in former times that the church alley was haunted, I was determined to see what it was. I called to it several times, but got no answer. I set my fiddle against the fence, and searched for some brick bats, which I found and threw them at the ghost. The ghost ran from me, and I run after the ghost as if I had a dog to catch it, and I fell over a very handsome SETTING CHAIR, which the owner can get by calling to JAMES CARTER.

Valuable Land for Sale.
HAVING more land in the tract on which I reside than I can farm to advantage, I will expose to public sale, on the 5th day of NOVEMBER next, if fair, if not the next fair day, eight hundred acres, divided into lots of two hundred acres; each lot has seventy acres in wood—of the cleared land one hundred and fifty acres are in clover, and two hundred in rye and wheat. This land is situated ten miles below Alexandria, and is bounded north and east by Accotink creek, which separates the lower part of it from Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price can be had for grain. It is as fertile as any land in the county, and is susceptible of improvement by clover and plaster, as any I have seen. Persons wishing to view it will call on the subscriber, living at Cedar Grove, one mile below Janney's mill.
The terms will be one-third of the purchase money in hand, and the balance in two equal annual payments. The sale will take place at 12 o'clock, on the premises.
EDGAR McCARTY.
Fairfax co. Va. October 6

Valuable Property for Sale.
THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsome situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of General J. Thompson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence. The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house, with a kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables. There is also on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover. With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm, containing 100 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which is a trifling expense would render comfortable.
The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NORBERT HERBERT, esq.
Oct 8

Land for Sale.
THE subscriber offers for sale a tract of 80 acres of land, on the Colchester road, five miles from Alexandria, adjoining the lands of Haywood Foote and Dennis Johnston. The greater part of this tract is fine meadow land, abundantly supplied with water. Also one other tract of 261 acres, on the Ravensworth road, about 5 miles from Alexandria, and one mile from the first mentioned tract, adjoining land of Thos. Janney and Mr. M'Pherson; the greater part of this tract is in wood, the soil good and highly susceptible of improvement from the use of plaster. If these lands are not sold before the first of January next, they will then be for rent.
CHARLES SIMMS.
June 18

Gunston for Sale.
THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 8,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries; two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abounded with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Furs, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
GEORGE MASON.
September 4

For Sale.
A valuable Farm in Jefferson County, by Court of Chancery for the Fredericksburg District in Virginia, in a suit wherein the Executors of Gen. George Washington were complainants; and Gerard Alexander, Thomas L. Alexander, (by Ludwell Lee, his appointed guardian) Ludwell Lee, R. D. H. L. Washington, John A. Washington, Bushrod C. Washington, and Mary Lee Washington, were defendants, will be exposed to sale to the highest bidder on the premises, on FRIDAY the 20th day of November next, all that tract of land lying in Jefferson County, Virginia, on Bullskin, commonly called Rockhall, containing 540 acres, now in the occupation of John Saunders.
The above tract of land lies about sixteen miles from Winchester, and about six from Charlestown, on the main road leading from Winchester to Baltimore, the city of Washington and Alexandria. It is well adapted to plaster and clover, and is in quality little inferior, if at all, to any farm in that fertile valley. The improvements on it are a large two story frame dwelling house, a barn and other necessary out houses.—The water is limestone and of excellent quality.
The terms of sale will be one-third of the purchase money, and the balance to be paid with interest, in one, two and three annual instalments, to be secured by a deed of trust on the property.
Any person wishing to view the land will be shown it upon application to John A. Washington or Bushrod C. Washington, living near it.

Aromatic Snuff.
For Catarrh & Headache.
THIS Snuff, as celebrated for its agreeable fragrance, as for its efficacy in the cure of recent catarrh and slow nervous headache, is used and approved by the present professor of chemistry in the university of Cambridge, Mass. and by some of the most respectable gentlemen of the faculty in the United States.—It is also particularly recommended by Dr. Waterhouse, late professor of the theory and practice of physic, in the above seminary—whose certificate accompanies each bottle.—Sold by Auction & Commission Store.

NATHL. P. BIXBY & CO. respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have taken that large and commodious store formerly occupied by the late Mr. Thomas Robinson, nearly opposite the Union Bank, Bridge-st., where they will transact all kinds of business in the Auction and Commission line; and as they are determined to give their exclusive attention to that business alone, those gentlemen who are disposed to employ them, have the best guarantee that they will be fairly dealt by. They flatter themselves that a punctual, diligent, and correct attention, together with their general knowledge of business, will secure to them at least an equal share of public patronage. Their intention is to avoid, as much as possible, retaining goods at auction. They are now prepared to receive goods of every description, to sell at public or private sale, and will attend to sales of property at any place within the town.

Gone to the Southward or Westward.
A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two weeks ago, by a man of the name of Bassett. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom; and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

Alexandria, August 4.
WAS committed to the jail of this Co. as a runaway, a negro man, who calls himself JOHN WEAKS, and says that he was born free in Prince George Co. Maryland, that his mother's name is Sally Green, who lives near the road leading from the Alexandria Ferry to the Eastern Branch bridge, adjoining one Hen. Thompson. He was committed to this jail on the 24th May last, and then called himself William Washington, but made his escape the 16th. He is about 25 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches high, stout made. Says he is known to Mr. Daniel Moxley, and Henry Thompson, of Maryland. The owner is requested to come and prove his property, pay charges, and take him away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs.

PROPOSALS.
By Gideon Fairman, John Binns and Charles S. Parker,
TO PUBLISH
A Splendid Edition of Washington's Farewell Address.
To the People of the United States.
THE world has seen enough of warriors and of Heroes—enough of Statesmen—of men who have guided Armies in the field, or dictated as Sages in the Cabinet, for the exclusive purpose of Ambition. History from its earliest page to the present day, has offered to our contemplation, only one WASHINGTON, but ONE MAN, whose dangers in war, and labors in peace, were undertaken and supported with a single eye, to the benefit of his country; whose wonderful and honorable success, was the plain result of wisdom in design, and valor in execution; whom danger never appalled, nor defeat depressed; who, persevering in the justice of his cause, won Victory till he won her: who coveted no reward but the well earned approbation of those whose interest he lived to promote; who renounced all public honors, when they ceased to be the necessary instruments of good to the people, whose gratitude conferred them; who superior to all Monarchs, was content to be called the American Citizen. His career of glory, through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS OF General Washington is the condensed result of long experience, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union; the danger of indulging too much in party feelings;—the necessity of supporting public credit at home;—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations; of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments;—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.
The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.
Mr. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sally the Surrender of the British Army at Yorktown, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and a proper character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be completed, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by Mr. Amies. The ink shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials. The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN; and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splendid edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splendid Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A Legislator for its Security! A magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving.
